Last year brought a multitude of changes at the marina... New office staff, about 40 new tenants, saying goodbye to a handful of long-term tenants (including a few who were planning to sail to various countries around the world, two who passed away, and about half a dozen who sold their boats)... A beautiful new BBQ area, as well as security cameras and Wi-Fi available on the docks... and a new "mascot" for the marina (i.e. Shaun's new Husky/German Shepherd, Charlie). What changes are in store for 2015? Only time will tell for sure! ☺

LOST AND FOUND

Last chance to claim your Harley-Davidson riding gloves in the office... We also have a key that was found in the laundry room over the summer that appears to be for a motorcycle...

Shelter Cove is one of the few "pet friendly" marinas in America's Cup Harbor. This is because, for the most part, we have tenants who are conscientious about cleaning up after their pets and making sure their dogs do not bark excessively. Last month, however, we received some complaints about dogs being off leashes, large dogs barking at tenants in the dark, and large piles of poop on the docks. DO NOT JEOPARDIZE your pet privileges and/or tenancy by failing to follow the marina Rules & Regulations re: pets!

Do you have old batteries that you need to dispose?

Are you aware of the fact that it is illegal to put them into the trash? If you have expired or corroded batteries of any kind, please give them to Adrian or Jesse so that they can be properly disposed of. Also, if you have frayed or corroded electrical cords, please do not place them in the trash either (as someone might attempt to "re-use" them) – bring these to Adrian or Jesse as well. Thanks for your cooperation. ☺

Brrrrr

Thanks to our live aboards who endured a few days of cold showers while we got the two new water heaters installed and functioning properly.

If you run into any problems with the hot water, please let us know - we now have a list of codes to diagnose any future issues with the system.
